FAMILY LOSES HOPE OF FINDING ALMA

Underground Search-d in Vain for Traces of Child.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 17.—Underground Louisville, as revealed in catch basins, fire cisterns and telephone conduits, failed to give up the remains of Alma Kellner to day. Workmen who began late yesterday to uproot the streets in the neighborhood of the house at 507 East Broadway from which the 8-year-old girl disappeared on her way to church ten days ago reported tonight that they had found no traces of the missing child.

There are no police developments though hundreds of clews of kidnapping, drowning, foul play and even metaphysics in the way of spiritualism—have been faithfully run down. No demand for ransoms have been made—none of the $3,000 offered has been claimed and the family is losing hope that Alma will ever be found.

THE AUTOMOBILE IS A SUCCESS

The people of Hopkinsville and Christian County have awakened to the fact that the automobile is a SUCCESS, and no longer an experiment. Realizing this, you will probably not hesitate to buy a car this winter, and when you buy of course you want the BEST. Let us tell you of our line, look it over and we believe that you will agree with us, that it is the best line in Hopkinsville. It is composed of the following cars:

Brush Runabout, $480.00.

Reo Runabout, roadsters and touring cars $500.00 to $1250.00.

The Buick Runabout Roadsters

And Touring Cars $1000 to $1750.

Locomobile Roadsters,

Touring and Limousine, $3500 to $6000.

Let us tell you the endurance races and contests that these four cars have won. We want to sell you your car, and want to sell you best, but if our line does not please you, we urge you to buy from local agents, and not from out of town agents. If interested, write, phone or call us.
